DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 22, 2008 has been entered.
2. The amended claims filed on April 22, 2008 fail to list claims 28-33 and their status. Please provide clarification in response to this Office action.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Election/Restrictions

4. Claims 17-33 remain withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Invention and Species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 10.
5. Regarding claim 17, upon reconsideration, claim 17 remains withdrawn from further consideration because claim 17 recites "a spring element" (disclosed as spring 61) that can be found only in the non-elected embodiments of Species B (figures 4-5) and Species C (6-8)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

7. Claims 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 14 appears to encompass two statutory classes of invention. While the preamble of is directed to an apparatus, the body of the claim appears to be directed to a manufacturing process of how the "crimped connection" is formed. The claim recites a configuration of the valve housing and connecting piece before the crimp and a configuration of the valve housing and connecting piece after the crimp. One of ordinary skill in the art would not know whether an apparatus meeting the after crimp configuration would infringe on the claimed invention without knowing the before crimp configuration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

8. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

9. Claims 14-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 14, it is uncertain whether the claimed invention is directed to an apparatus or a method of manufacturing because the claim appears to cross two statutory classes of invention.

Claim 14 recites "an inserted connecting piece" in line 15. It appears to be a double inclusion of the "connection piece" recited in line 6.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 14-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
